What are We Hearing about FMCLA?

Platform is great and easy to navigate. After going through a few questions, I felt comfortable taking the test.

Very convenient to do at my own time and pace, in the comfort of my home.

I could really feel a sense of control over my test anxiety. This format really allowed me to focus on the questions and materials rather than my heart rate.

When FMCLA started, I had a young child. I didn't know where I'd have time to do a board review class and sit for the one-day exam. FMCLA was more beneficial to me so I could take care of my child at the same time.

I didn't see this as an exam, but more of a learning opportunity.

The screenshot displays the 'CME Tracking' dashboard. At the top, there is a search bar with the text 'Search by areas of interest, activity types, or search terms...' and a 'SEARCH' button. Below the search bar, the 'CME Tracking' section provides an overview: 'A component of continuous certification requirement is related to participation in continuing medical education (CME). Since the inception of board certification, this has involved a requirement of an average of 50 CME credits annually. CME credit is earned by participating in Continuing Medical Education activities through ABFM, AAFP, AMA and other organizations. All ABFM-developed certification activities such as Knowledge Self-Assessment (KSA) Continuous Knowledge Self-Assessment (CKSA) and Performance Improvement (PI) will earn you CME credit.' A 'Learn More' button is present, and the AAFP ID is listed as 7163127.

The 'Continuing Medical Education (CME)' section features a pie chart showing 'Division I Credits 125.25 Credits'. Text indicates that the AAFP reports 149.25 of the 150 required credits, and no more than 75 Division II credits can be used. A legend identifies the colors for Division I, Division II, and Incomplete CME.

The 'CME History' section is divided into 'Automatic Load from AAFP' and 'Manually Entered'. It includes a 'CME History' header, a 'Last update from AAFP: 05/24/22 01:31' timestamp with a refresh icon, and a 'Print CME History' button. The text explains that the record shows all CME credits received by ABFM and that ABFM is not a CME tracking agency.

Performance Improvement

Activity Options

Professionalism:

The Foundation of Medicine’s Social Contract with Society – a declaration we make to each other, and the public, regarding the shared competency standards and ethical values we promise to uphold in our work.

ABFM establishes a 3-part framework and utilizes Guidelines for assessing whether family physicians have satisfied the responsibilities of professionalism necessary to seek or maintain Diplomate status.

- 1 Care that is safe
- 2 Honest, ethical, trustworthy behavior with patients, colleagues, coworkers, the public
- 3 Practice at level expected of a board-certified family physician

Losing Certification is Uncommon

Average Annual Rates of Certification

Actions:

- 0.9% of Diplomates have case reviewed by Professionalism Committee
- Only 0.09% lose certification
- 50% of these are restored when license limitations removed

New Professionalism Guidelines Approved April 2021

- Provides increased flexibility for case review by Professionalism Committee under Special Circumstances

Common Professionalism Issues

Controlled substance prescribing concerns

Boundary violations with patients

Personal substance use impacting patient care

Note: If a physician has questions about a governing body sanction or consent agreement, ABFM offers to review draft language first in case a change in language might help them retain certification.
