

Member Profile – April 2021

NAME: Peter J. Sandroni

Undergraduate School: Cornell University

Medical School: Ross University

Residency: UND Center for Family Medicine

Any additional training: No

Current Position/Practice Location: Program Director, Minot

Family: Wife Kaitlyn and son Henri (7 months)

Family Medicine Questions:

1. Why did you choose Family Medicine? I chose family medicine because of the emphasis on Doctor-Patient relationship, the continuity of care, the comprehensiveness, and the ability to work in multiple settings.
2. If you weren't a physician, what do you think you would be doing? If I wasn't a physician I would stay in the field of academic science teaching in some regard. Alternatively I would join the armed forces or national park service. Otherwise I would drive a taxi in a heavily populated metropolitan area.
3. What is the best part of your current position/practice? The privilege to witness young physicians conquer their fears and apprehension and then teach incoming classes what they've learned.
4. What advice would you give to a young physician starting out? I advise young physicians to keep the differential broad, remain detailed and disciplined in their physical examination and to treat all patients with the respect and compassion they would grant a friend or family member.

Fun Questions:

1. Where's your favorite place in the world? West End II, Jones Beach State Park, NY
2. The last book you read? "A Tiger Among US" by Bennie Adkins, Medal of Honor Recipient
3. How many states have you visited? I have visited 31 states